

The following family histories were submitted to the Society by the descendants of John B Hubble (ME#1243 / AR#1234) and Martin Jones Hubble (ME#2928 / AR#2736). Martin Hubble was the grandfather of Edwin Powell Hubble, the noted astronomer. This family line is one of a number of families who trace their ancestors back to Joel Hubbell / Hubble, the son of Justus Hubbell / Hubble, the Revolutionary War soldier who immigrated from New York to western Virginia after the war.

Most of this research was performed by Emily Jane (Jamie) Hubble (ME#5601 / AR#5022) from about 1920 to her death in 1962. Consequently, there are a few factual errors in the discussions of our earliest ancestor (Richard the Immigrant). More up to date research, published in the Hubbell Family Genealogy publications and books can provide more accurate information on this topic. Interestingly, the official biography of Edwin Powell Hubble, published in 1970 by the National Academy of Sciences, also contains numerous factual errors about Richard the Immigrant.

A family genealogy flow chart has been constructed, on the next page, to assist the reader in placing the numerous individuals mentioned.

The Society would like to thank to following cousins for donating the Martin Jones Hubble family bible to the Hubbell Library in Des Moines, IA and providing the wealth of genealogical information that follows.
