Friendship and Happiness

It is only natural for human beings to dream and plan for the future, but what is most essential is being happy just here and now. To be happy we must be helpful. Future happiness will take care of itself in its right and natural way if what we do now is done well.

Friendship is the basis of all happiness. Robert Louis Stevenson says, "So long as we love we serve; so long as we are loved by others I would almost say that we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend." Pierre Charron says of happiness, "To owe an obligation to a worthy friend is happiness." And how truly Arsene Houssaye says, "Friendship lives on its income, love devours its capital."

This last is pointedly true. Friendship endures alone on what friendship gives for friendship. Little deeds of kindness here and there go a long way toward brightening the dark corners.

Did you ever realize

What a little word might do?

And did you ever think

That the word might be from you?

The friendships we form here at school are the "old friendships". Here we make fast friends; friends that will mean more to us as the years go on. We want to be such friends to them as to afford them happiness, and then great will be our return.

True friendship will endure the acid tests of trials and time. A true friend is the bond of success, and we can never fail if we have friends. We must be ever ready to lend a hand, for in no other wise is the tie of friendship more surely strengthened and preserved. It is the tie that binds and the leaven hid in the bushel that leavens the whole.

We look to friends for praise, suggestions, criticisms, and help. It is friends who make life beautiful and easy for us.

We must live up to the standards of Principle and abide by the principles exacted by a clean life. Let us hold ourselves responsible to our honor and to our friends, and happiness will be assured.

THE K. O. SPEAKS

Taps has blown over the course in Military Service and Tactics for the year, and once again in the annals of school history it becomes the privilege of the K. O. to write a few words in retrospect on the Military Department.

Last year marked an important step towards placing the Military instruction at Principia on an advanced basis. At that time application was made for participation in Government Aid under the National Defense Act, and the cadets were organized under General order No. 48 of the War Department. (since then supplemented by Special Regulations 45). Under its plan the War Department furnishes the complete infantry equipment for each cadet except the uniforms which the cadet must purchase.

The course of instruction in Military Service and Tactics follows that prescribed in Special Regulations 44 of the War Department for Senior Units of the Infantry R. O. T. C., except that the course at Principia covers six years to conform to the Junior College and six-year Principia courses.

It is relatively simple to say that the course will cover six years, that four years shall be used to cover the basis, and two years the advanced work.

EIGHTH GRADE NOTES

November 11 a birthday party was given for one of our classmates, Uel Hankenson. A very pleasant afternoon was spent in the enjoyment of games and refreshments.

Saturday evening, February 12, the boys of eighth grade gave the girls a delightful Valentine party in the mother school room of the Lower School Building. The opening of the Valentine Box was a source of much fun and entertainment.

The girls of eighth grade gave the boys a St. Patrick's Party, March 15. Everyone enjoyed the dancing and games of the evening. Decorations were in green and white.

On April 15 a surprise party was given by Mrs. Hawley for her daughter, Vera Louise. The tacky costumes were the principal features of the evening, but dancing and games were also enjoyed by all.

Two of our classmates, Wilcox Dyer and Bob White, gave a masquerade dance in the Assembly Hall of the Lower School Building, April 22. Balloons, programs, punch, and decorations added to the pleasures of the evening.
