

General Agent F. D. Hubble, of the Chesapeake & Potomac Steamship Company, which has just put on a new line of steamers between Washington, Old Point and Norfolk, spoke briefly. He said that his company hoped to have connection with this city. Whether the main line steamers will stop here or a subsidiary line will be used as a feeder, time alone will tell, said the speaker.

Editor Morgan, of the Northern Neck News, and Prof. George P. Phoenix, of the Normal school, were the last speakers.
