Aug. 10, 1836, Sarah Ann Todd, dau. of Col. Wm. W. Todd;* she was b. June 21, 1813. She was manager of the Graham Institute for old ladies in Brooklyn, the Sanitary Fair, and Colored Orphan Asylum, New York. She was a devout Christian, uniting early with the First Baptist Church, N. Y., and when her husband and family united with the Washington Heights Presbyterian Church, she united with them. She d. in Brooklyn, while temporarily away from her home at Fort Washington, N. Y. City, March 8, 1883. Mr. Green was director of the Jackson Marine Ins. Co., the Anchor Fire Ins. Co., Sherman & Barnsdale Oil Co., and president of the Brooklyn Oil Co., and Green Island Oil Co., The North Second St. and Middle Village R. R. Co. and treasurer of the Brooklyn and Bushwick R. R. Co. He was trustee of the Church of the Pilgrims (Dr. R. S. Storrs), and the Washington Heights Presbyterian Church (Dr. Chas. A. Stoddard), where he was also chosen an elder, but his modesty prevented his acceptance. When he was 20 years old he was commissioned ensign (Dec. 24, 1827) of the 10th Regt. of Infantry, N. Y., promoted lieutenant Sept. 20, 1828, and captain Sept. 10, 1833; he declined further promotion.

Capt. Green was elected for two terms, 1852-5, Alderman from the First Ward (Brooklyn Heights), and Associate-Judge, City Court. He was a Whig, Native American, afterwards Union and Republican. His first vote was for John Quincy Adams, Republican, his father and grandfather had been Federalists, but that party was dead.

Alderman Green returned to New York after retiring from business in 1856. He was a member of the N. Y. Historical Society, Society of the Sons of the Revolution, and War of 1812.†

He was the first one to whom his son imparted his plan to organize the Mayflower Descendants, but when the meeting took place, he was in his last sickness.

He lived at the time of his death, Dec. 30, 1894, at 235 Central Park, West, and was buried in his mausoleum at Riverside Cemetery, East Haddam, Conn. Children:

- 187 i. William Todd^o Greene, b. Jan. 2, 1838; d. May 16, 1847.
- 188 ii. Richard Henry Greene, b. June 12, 1839.

79. JAMES WILSON^o GREEN (Richard,⁴ James,³ William,² William¹), b. March 20, 1809; came to New York from East Haddam; m. May 1, 1832, Catharine A. Whitney of Albany, N. Y., b. July 27, 1812; lived N. Y. City, then Richmond, Ind., for seven years, then N. Y. until May 1, 1846, then Brooklyn, N. Y., where his wife d. Aug. 21, 1849; she was dau. of Selleck and Betsey (Knapp) Whitney. Selleck was b. Stamford, Conn., June 28, 1779-80; m. Jan. 26, 1805-6, Betsey, dau. of Jas. and Mary (Hubbell) Knapp. He was son of Daniel and Hannah (Selleck) Whitney (see Whitney Genealogy); she was dau. of Peter and Martha (Whiting) Selleck.

INSCRIPTIONS IN MILLTOWN CEMETERY,
SOUTHEAST, N. Y.

COPIED BY EMMA J. FOSTER AND JULIA R. LIVINGSTON.

Milltown is the name of a locality on the Croton River near the middle of the Oblong, and adjoining Doanesburg in Putnam (formerly Dutchess) County, N. Y., and took its name from mills built on the Croton at this point, before the Revolution. Its early settlers were members of Rev. Elisha Kent's church at Doanesburg, then East Philippi, and some of them are buried there. They were the Halls, the Cranes, the Sears, the Weeds, etc. Charles Cullen, who married Lucy, daughter of Rev. Elisha Kent, in 1773, had a house and store at Milltown, where at a later date Capt. Ichabod Doolittle kept a tavern, a favorite resort for travellers to and from Danbury.

In the Milltown burying-ground are found the same names and representatives of the same families as are found in Doanesburg.

The inscriptions given below include all those before 1860, except it may be in the case of a husband and wife when the more recent dates are given. E. J. F.
