

Guilford, Connecticut Town Records

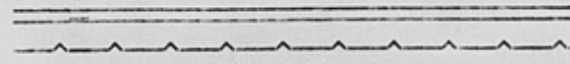

The Guilford town records start in 1645, about 6 years after the founding of the plantation in 1639. Although the first Congregational Church was founded in 1643, the earliest church record begins in 1747.

In the 19th century, the surviving town records were transcribed. The following are extracts from the 19th century transcription and in a few cases are immediately followed by the original record.
